

The Ancient City and Erawan Museum

Daily Full Day Tour

By Van or Car

Daily Full Day Tour with lunch: a traditional Thai meal at the Floating Market inside the Ancient City

Session	Description	Meal (- / L / -)
1	In the morning on the way to the Ancient City we will visit the Erawan Museum , brought to you by the same family that has created the Ancient City, another of Thailand's best kept secrets! It is easily seen from afar as it is a giant 43 meter tall statue of 3 giant elephant heads . It took 10 years to build. Inside the elephant is a 3 storey museum housing art, artifacts and treasures collected by the Viriyabhun family. An extraordinary place to visit with surprises tucked in all corners of the inside of the statue.
2	On the other side of the airport in Samut Prakarn province lies one of Thailand's best kept secrets: the Ancient City (the park is also known as Muang Boran or Ancient Siam) . Here is a spectacular and wonderful open-air museum recreating many of Thailand's monuments in a 200-acre park roughly shaped like Thailand itself. It's a truly beautiful setting, and you can explore it by tram, or by hiring a golf cart or bicycle. It gets a bit busier at weekends and on local holidays, so a weekday trip can be a good idea. When we want to give our own friends and family a taste of what Thailand & its culture is about, we bring them here!
